Provider Members

Membership for Residences

RIALA invites companies that own and/or operate assisted living communities to join our association. Whether you are nationally owned or family-run, we are all focused on a common mission of providing the highest quality care to our residents. Our mission is focused on providing our members with the tools and resources in order to raise the bar of excellence in their communities.

Industry Partners

Membership for Businesses

Perfect for any company or corporation that provides goods or services to the senior housing industry or has an interest of involvement in the industry but is not an assisted living residence. One primary contact receives all RIALA communications. All employees of the company are considered members for pricing of conferences, educational programs and meetings.

Associate Members

Membership for Individuals

Associate Memberships are ideal for individuals not currently employed in an assisted living residence but have a firm interest with the industry and want to stay in-the-know.
